How many of you say:

I should like to see His face, His garments, His shoes.

You do see Him.
You touch Him.
You eat Him.

He gives Himself to you,
not only that you may see Him, but also to be your food and nourishment.

OUR LADY OF PEACE CATHOLIC CHURCH & SHRINE MISSION STATEMENT

Our Lady of Peace is a church and shrine dedicated to the greater glory of God and the salvation of souls.

It is a place of prayer & pilgrimage with: • Perpetual adoration of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament
• Devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary • Frequent celebration of the Sacraments, particularly the Eucharist and Reconciliation • Integrated formation of the person (spiritual, moral, intellectual and emotional)

From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners,

This Extraordinary Jubilee Year of Mercy "also entails the granting of indulgences." (Misericordiae Vultus, 22)

This might be a sensitive subject, which –as St. John Paul II explained– "has suffered historical misunderstandings that have had a negative impact on communion between Christians. [...] Experience shows, in fact, that indulgences are sometimes received with superficial attitudes that ultimately frustrate God's gift and cast a shadow on the very truths and values taught by the Church." (General Audience, 09/29/99)

His explanation is not only profound but also very clear, so I just limit myself to quote an excerpt of his words. He said: "The starting-point for understanding indulgences is the abundance of God's mercy revealed in the Cross of Christ. The crucified Jesus is the great 'indulgence' that the Father has offered humanity through the forgiveness of sins and the possibility of living as children (cf. Jn 1: 12-13) in the Holy Spirit (cf. Gal 4: 6).

However, in the logic of the covenant, which is the heart of the whole economy of salvation, this gift does not reach us without our acceptance and response.

In the light of this principle, it is not difficult to understand how reconciliation with God, although based on a free and abundant offer of mercy, at the same time implies an arduous process which involves the individual's personal effort and the Church's sacramental work. For the forgiveness of sins committed after Baptism, this process is centered on the sacrament of Penance, but it continues after the sacramental celebration. The person must be gradually 'healed' of the negative effects which sin has caused in him (what the theological tradition calls the 'punishments' and 'remains' of sin).

At first sight, to speak of punishment after sacramental forgiveness might seem inconsistent. The Old Testament, however, shows us how normal it is to undergo reparative punishment after forgiveness. God, after describing himself as a God merciful and gracious ... forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, adds: yet not without punishing (Ex 34: 6-7). [...] In this context temporal punishment expresses the condition of suffering of those who, although reconciled with God, are still marked by those 'remains' of sin which do not leave them totally open to grace. Precisely for the sake of complete healing, the sinner is called to undertake a journey of conversion towards the fullness of love.

On this pathway God's mercy comes to his aid in special ways. The temporal punishment itself serves as 'medicine' to the extent that the person allows it to challenge him to undertake his own profound conversion. This is the meaning of the 'satisfaction' required in the sacrament of Penance.

The meaning of indulgences must be seen against this background of man's total renewal by the grace of Christ the Redeemer through the Church's ministry. They began historically with the ancient Church's awareness of being able to express the mercy of God by mitigating the canonical penances imposed for the sacramental remission of sins. The mitigation was offset, however, by personal and community obligations as a substitute for the punishment's 'medicinal' purpose.

We can now understand how an indulgence is 'a remission before God of the temporal punishment due to sins whose guilt has already been forgiven, which the faithful Christian who is duly disposed gains under certain prescribed conditions through the action of the Church which, as the minister of redemption, dispenses and applies with authority the treasury of the satisfactions of Christ and the saints' (cf. Catechism of the C. C., n. 1471).

There thus exists the treasury of the Church, which is 'dispensed' as it were through indulgences. This 'distribution' should not be understood as a sort of automatic transfer, as if we were speaking of 'things'. It is instead the expression of the Church's full confidence of being heard by the Father [...]. We can see, then, how indulgences, far from being a sort of 'discount' on the duty of conversion, are instead an aid to its prompt, generous and radical fulfilment. This is required to such an extent that the spiritual condition for receiving a plenary indulgence is the exclusion 'of all attachment to sin, even venial sin' (Enchiridion Indulgentiarum, p. 25)."

May God bless you all!

LETTER FROM FR. NIETO, IVE

Dear Parishioners,

It is spiritually rewarding and I am very glad to hear of your participation in all our parish activities. I really missed the Fatima Pilgrimage this past Wednesday.

I'm still in Rome taking part of the IVE General Chapter where new authorities for our order have been elected. And so, I have been called to serve as General Superior for our Institute for the following six years. Humanly speaking this is a very difficult task that indeed surpasses one's ability, but our Good Lord in his Mercy has disposed it this way and I trust that He will give us the graces we need to carry on and to fulfill his holy Will the best way we can. Thus, my dear Friends in Christ, I need wholeheartedly of your understanding and prayers.

I will always treasure the marvelous years I spent as your pastor. How will I ever forget the beautiful things we have done together for God! You brought so much consolation to my priestly heart.

I expect to return at the end of this month where we will have time to bid farewell to each other. Meanwhile, I earnestly commend myself to your prayers.

I am most grateful to you for all your support, affection and the inspiring witness you give of our faith. Please, know that I hold you all very dear to my heart and that I pray for you and our dear Family of Our Lady of Peace daily.

May God bless you all!

This program consists of 33 days of prayer and exercises which help purify souls to prepare one for Total Consecration to Jesus through Mary.

In this program, there are two different periods assigned to these exercises:

- The first period includes 12 days of exercises employed in casting off the spirit of the world which is

contrary to Jesus Christ

- The second period consists of 3 weeks: the first devoted to the Knowledge of Ourselves, the second devoted to the Knowledge of the Blessed Virgin Mary and the third devoted to that of Jesus Christ.

All Consecration Participants will consecrate together on November 19, the Vigil of the Feast of Christ the King at the 5pm mass at Our Lady of Peace Church & Shrine. Prayers can be recited at one's home if one is unable to go to the church.

Hard Sayings: A Catholic Approach to Answering Bible Difficulties ($21.95)

"Trent Horn's impressive command of Catholic & skeptical sources makes Hard Sayings an invaluable resource for all who wrestle with Bible difficulties. It reveals the sanity of the Catholic approach to Scripture & shows how critics who attack supposed contradictions are missing the mark. This book should be required reading for every Christian who takes the Bible seriously."

Set in a political prison at the end of World War II, the story of the 'cage' is also a metaphor for the imprisonment of minds and souls in various forms of unbelief. It is ultimately about redemption, sacrifice, and mercy."
