Christians, to the Paschal Victim
Offer your thankful praises!
A Lamb the sheep redeems;
Christ, who only is sinless,
Reconciles sinners to the Father.
Death and life have contended in that combat stupendous:

The Prince of life, who died, reigns immortal.

An Easter Message – I Am Glad That You Are Here

Dear Friends,

I am happy to welcome you to Our Lady of Peace this Easter Sunday!

I am writing this to all of you who DO NOT come to Our Lady of Peace very much, either because: 1. the complexities and demands of your life keep you sufficiently preoccupied; 2. there has been some doubt or unmet desire in the Church that flattens any enthusiasm towards consistent Church presence; 3. the dark cloud of scandal and crisis that has been over the church in recent times has left you rightfully angry and unmotivated to come regularly; or 4. simply because it is your custom to come on the most significant days of the year, no more no less.

No matter the reason, I am glad that you are here. (Therefore, if you do come to Our Lady of Peace regularly and are reading this, look for someone new, say hello to them, introduce yourself, give them this bulletin, and then blame it on me).

Since the opportunity does not come around all that often, I feel the weight of these moments. Not to justify any arguments or prove any points, but to adequately express that I value your relationship. What can I say to you? What should I say to you? Knowing that this day is supported with many, many prayers. I would like to say this: I'm sorry.

The parish of Our Lady of Peace sits immediately north of the 101, we are generally located south of San Francisco Bay, surrounded by the Diablo Range and Santa Cruz Mountains, and all of the souls in our parish boundaries are entrusted to our care. Therefore, I want to say is, “I'm sorry.” I have not done enough for you.

Again, this is not to prove a point, nor indirectly introduce an argument, but it is a courageous claim – filled with love and humility – of faults committed and limitations highlighted. As Christians, these are the words that we have been trying to keep in mind for the past 40 days, as Lent is a time that we strive to be purified by contrition of our sins committed against God and neighbor. I want you to know the significance of these words, “I am sorry.”

On this Easter Sunday, I am sorry for the ways in which our local priests or parishioners, past or present, may have caused offense to others. Some persons have been offended by or left with unmet expectations due to the limitations of the priest, the parishioners or the parish family. Some of those offenses may still be unresolved or may have left bitterness in a person’s heart. I am sorry. The ongoing dark cloud that surrounds us in the priestly sexual abuse crisis has been a source of rightful anger on the part of all. I am sorry.

I say this to you, because I desire all of us to be united to Christ. Plain and simple. As St. Paul once wrote to the people of Corinth: “We implore you, in Christ’s name: be reconciled to God! For our sake God made him who did not know sin to be sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.” (2 Cor. 5:20-21) It is before Christ, who for love of us took our own guilt upon himself, that we must examine ourselves. Today I want to say, as clearly as I can, “I am sorry,” so that our community, united in Jesus Christ, the Paschal Victim, may experience healing and reconciliation, with you.

Jesus Christ and His Gospel, which comes to us through the Church, is in no way lacking.

Therefore, expect her to elevate you, not necessarily entertain you. Do not expect her or the sacraments to get rid of your anxieties, sufferings or trials, but to give you the grace to bear them patiently and grow holy though them. Do not look to her for affirmation in your thoughts and feelings, but for formation in ordering, rectifying and deepening your thoughts and feelings. The Church is not necessarily a place to express who you are, but to discover who you are, to discover that you are beautifully and wonderfully made, so that you may express your uniqueness according to God’s commandments.

Therefore, if there has been any point in which anyone here has prevented this from happening. I am sorry. Happy Easter and I am glad that you are here!

Mary, Our Lady of Peace, pray for us,
Fr. Brian

From atheism & Marxism to Catholicism…
Sohrab Ahmari was a teenager living under the Iranian ayatollahs when he decided that there is no God. Nearly two decades later, he was received into the Roman Catholic Church.

Feeding Faith Book Club Featured Title:
From Fire By Water: My Journey to the Catholic Faith
(20% off, reg. $22.95)

In From Fire, by Water, Sohrab Ahmari recounts his unlikely passage from the strident Marxism and atheism of a youth misspent on both sides of the Atlantic to a moral and spiritual awakening prompted by the Mass. At once a young intellectual’s finely crafted self-portrait and a life story at the intersection of the great ideas and events of our time, the book marks the debut of a compelling new Catholic voice. Come meet him on May 4th! Please see page 9 for more details.

New from Catholic Answers:
Sunday Will Never Be the Same
($16.95)

In Sunday Will Never Be the Same, Dawn Eden Goldstein (The Thrill of the Chaste; Peace Be With You: Healing Sexual Wounds with the Help of the Saints; Remembering God’s Mercy) recounts her spiritual journey in beautiful wrought detail, mixing powerful accounts of trauma, healing, & epiphany with funny & poignant anecdotes from inside the music scene. It is the rare “conversion story” that delights as it inspires, amuses as it edifies – and ultimately lays before the reader a lived testimony to the transforming grace of Christ.

Candle Policy
Although lit candles in a wooden church could present a fire hazard, we are blessed to have a small section of the church available for you to pray for your intentions. Thousands of OLOP candles are lit each year—either at home or on this small stand—by people who want to pray before our Blessed Mother. To maintain this tradition, however, we can not allow candles purchased elsewhere to be left lit in the church. Why? Our candles are safer/sturdier, burn clean and longer, and will not damage our walls or ceiling. Please help us maintain this precious Catholic tradition by only using candles from our gift shop, only placing them on designated slots (not on the floor), and understanding why your outside candles must be immediately removed.
