From the Pastor's Desk

"If we receive the Eucharist worthily, we become what we receive." (St. Augustine)

Dear Friends,

On this Solemnity of Corpus Christi, the Sunday in which we honor the Most Precious Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is the center and the summit of our Christian lives and of the Holy Mass. Therefore, in our reflections on the Holy Mass, it is fitting that we have arrived at the moment of communion on this day.

As the hymn for communion begins and we start to shuffle towards the communion rail, some may wonder: What am I supposed to do? What am I supposed to think? How can I approach this moment rightly?

First, objectively speaking, it would be most important to make sure that one is in the state of grace. The Church prohibits our reception of the Eucharist if we have not been to confession at least once in the year or if we are in a state of moral sin. Moreover, it is good to confess regularly to break our attachment even to venial sin. Also, one must know what they are doing, choose to get in the communion line, do not just follow the pack of people, but be intentional about it. We must also be prepared for Communion; St. Francis de Sales recommends begin the night before. This is something that we spoke about in these letters some months back, as we began these reflections on the mass. It is important to prepare ourselves.

Speaking about frequent and daily reception of Communion, Pope St. Pius X offers us some very practical advice on this topic of preparation: "Since, however, the Sacraments of the New Law, though they produce their effect ex opere operato, nevertheless, produce a great effect in proportion as the dispositions of the recipient are better, therefore, one should take care that Holy Communion be preceded by careful preparation, and followed by an appropriate thanksgiving, according to each one's strength, circumstances and duties." (Sacra Tridentina)

St. John Paul II recommends that we look at the hymns and poems of the Solemnity of Corpus Christi, saying: "Let us make our own the words of Saint Thomas Aquinas, an eminent theologian and an impassioned poet of Christ in the Eucharist, and turn in hope to the contemplation of that goal to which our hearts aspire in their thirst for joy and peace". (Ecclesia de Eucharistia, n. 62)

Typically known for his philosophical and theological body of work, St. Thomas Aquinas penned a beautifully poetic hymn of Eucharistic thanksgiving, Adore Te Devote (Devoutly I Adore Thee), which in the translation by the Jesuit poet Gerard Manley Hopkins expresses the mystery and wonder of our reception of Jesus in Holy Communion. It is almost as though, through these words, we are granted access into the mind and heart of the Angelic Doctor as he approaches the altar of the Lord:

Godhead here in hiding
Whom I do adore
Masked by these bare shadows,
Shape and nothing more,
See, Lord, at Thy service
Low lies here a heart
Lost, all lost in wonder
At the God Thou art.

Seeing, touching, tasting
Are in Thee deceived;
How says trusty hearing?
That shall be believed;
What God's Son has told me,
Take for truth I do;
Truth Himself speaks truly
Or there's nothing true.

In conclusion, we can turn to what might be the best way to approach our Lord in the Eucharist, that is, with Mary. St. Louis Marie de Montfort says it best: "Implore Mary to lend you her heart so that you may receive her Son with her dispositions. Remind her that her Son's glory requires that he should not come into a heart so sullied and fickle as your own, which could not fail to diminish his glory and might cause him to leave. Tell her that if she will take up her abode in you to receive her Son - which she can do because of the sovereignty she has over all hearts - he will be received by her in a perfect manner without danger of being affronted or being forced to depart. "God is in the midst of her. She shall not be moved."" (True Devotion, n. 266)

Mary, Our Lady of Peace, pray for us,

Fr. Brian

PLENARY INDULGENCE

There is a plenary indulgence available on Friday, June 21st. To gain a plenary indulgence you must:

- Be baptized and in the state of grace, at least at the time the indulgenced work is done.
- Have "the interior disposition of complete detachment from sin, even venial sin." Otherwise, the indulgence becomes partial, not plenary.
- Fulfill these three conditions:
  - Sacramentally confess your sins
  - Receive Holy Communion.
  - Pray for the intentions of the Holy Father. One Our Father and one Hail Mary fully satisfies this.
- Have at least a general intention to gain the indulgence.
- On the Solemnity of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, publicly recite the act of reparation "Jesu dulcissime" (lwritten below). A partial indulgence is granted for its use in other circumstances, such as private recitation.

Jesu Dulcissime

Most sweet Jesus, whose overflowing charity for men is requited by so much forgetfulness, negligence, and contempt, behold us prostrate before you, eager to repair by a special act of homage the cruel indifference and injuries to which your loving Heart is everywhere subjected.

Mindful, alas! That we ourselves have had a share in such great indignities, which we now deplore from the depths of our hearts, we humbly ask your pardon and declare our readiness to atone by voluntary expiation, not only for our own personal offenses, but also for the sins of those who, straying from the path of salvation, refuse in their obstinate infidelity to follow you, their Shepherd and Leader, or, renouncing the promises of their Baptism, have cast off the sweet yoke of your law.

We are now resolved to expiate each and every deplorable outrage committed against you; we are determined to make amends for the manifold offenses against Christian modesty in indecent dress and behavior, for all the foul seductions laid to ensnare the feet of the innocent, for the frequent violations of Sundays and holydays, and for the shocking blasphemies uttered against you and your Saints. We wish also to make amends for the insults to which your Vicar on earth and your priests are subjected, for the profanation, by conscious neglect or terrible acts of sacrilege, of the very Sacrament of your divine love, and lastly for the public crimes of nations who resist the rights and teaching authority of the Church which you have founded.

Would that we were able to wash away such abominations with our blood. We now offer, in reparation for these violations of your divine honor, the satisfaction you once made to your Eternal Father on the cross and which you continue to renew daily on our altars; we offer it in union with the acts of atonement of your Virgin Mother and all the saints and of the pious faithful on earth; and we sincerely promise to make recompense, as far as we can with the help of your grace, for all the neglect of your great love and for the sins we and others have committed in the past. Henceforth, we will live a life of unswerving faith, of purity of conduct, of perfect observance of the precepts of the Gospel and especially that of charity. We promise to the best of our power to prevent others from offended you and to bring as many as possible to follow you.

O loving Jesus, through the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mother, our model of reparation, deign to receive the voluntary offering we make of this act of expiation; and by the crowning gift of perseverance keep us faithful unto death to our duty and the allegiance we owe to you, that we may all one day come to that happy home, where with the Father and the Holy Spirit you live and reign, for ever and ever. Amen.
