Conversations On Culture: The Ears Of A Musician and Eyes Of A Poet

Dear Friends,

A culture that would be beneficial to humans would be, according to the Greeks, musical. “Well,” you might ask, “What is a musical culture?” Does that mean a life lived with my favorite playlist perpetually running through my ear buds? My life soundtrack that helps me avoid silence? Sorry, that is not a musical culture.

Well, it would be good to understand the very term music. As I parenthetically mentioned last week, the Greeks used music to civilize the youth. And by music they meant, “whatever activity is under the care of the Muses, that tradition consisting of the arts and skills which we call “arts and letters,” and among these especially poetry and melodic music.” (Brann, Socrates on Music and Poetry) The muses in ancient Greece were considered “the source of the knowledge embodied in the poetry, lyric songs, and myths that were related orally for centuries in ancient Greek culture.”

The muses, in the mind of the wise man Socrates are meant to foster a search for truth or a love of wisdom. Incidentally the word “philosophy” literally means, “love of wisdom.” Therefore, a musical culture ought to lead us philosophical reflection. They should, like a kind of force, impel us to stop and think. Might it be possible that even the small things in life can be striking and worthy of our admiration? For example, a conversation, watching the clouds race by, or appreciating silence.

This is in contrast to those things that appeal to our senses and feelings, these are termed “popular,” which are quick and easy to grasp—no thought required. These would speak more to the imagination and to the emotions than to the will and to the mind. According to classics professors, those books or works of art that are oftentimes categorized as a “Great Book” are able to accomplish both – they stir up the imagination with a great story and they nourish both the mind and the heart. It is sort of like a really wonderful meal that at one and the same time pleases and nourishes. Some authors along these lines would be Shakespeare, Cervantes, and Dante (just to name a few).

Again, just so we are clear, what we are talking about here regarding a musical culture is recovering the art of being, which is typically told through story-telling, poetry, architecture, sculpture, painting and drawing, as well as song, all of which are meant to foster (aid) in our search for truth and love. When we bring these two things together—true and the good—we have something beautiful. Don’t forget about the transcendentals! Great art, great music, great stories, great poetry, these are all things that we need.

In Restoration of a Christian Culture, John Senior writes that Musical reading does not consist in technical analysis of texts, but rather reading on the musical level is “something simple, direct, enjoyable, unreflective, uncritical, spontaneous, free, romantic, if you will, with the full understanding that such experience is not sufficient ... for science and philosophy, but indispensable as the cultural soil of moral, intellectual, and spiritual growth.” Therefore, along these lines a person can begin to see life with a more child-like simplicity, one that is filled with excitement, wonder, and dare I say it, joy, over the ordinary.

I leave you with St. John Henry Newman who articulates this musical/poetical culture that we would do well to cultivate. He does it within the fame of a Benedictine Monastery. We could however, apply this to ourselves as well. For him there is a link between spiritual joy and child-like simplicity:

“And therefore have I called the monastic state the most poetical of religious disciplines. It was a return to that primitive age of the world, of which poets have so often sung, ... when fraud and violence were unknown. It was a bringing back of those real, not fabulous, scenes of innocence and miracle, when Adam delved, or Abel kept sheep, or Noe planted the vine, and Angels visited them. It was a fulfillment in the

All baptized Catholics are required to observe abstinence from meat (age 14 onwards) on Ash Wednesday and all Fridays during Lent. Fasting (ages 18-59) is also required on Ash Wednesday, unless grave health concerns prevent them.

FASTING & ABSTINENCELenten Regulations on Fast and Abstinence

Abstinence from meat is observed on Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, and all the Fridays of Lent by all Catholics 14 years and older.

Fasting is observed on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday by all Catholics who are 18 years of age but not yet 59. Those bound by this rule may take only one full meal. Two smaller meals are permitted as necessary to maintain strength according to one's needs, but eating solid foods between meals is not permitted.

The special Pascal fast and abstinence are observed on Good Friday, and where possible, Holy Saturday. On these days, Christians prepare themselves by these disciplines in anticipation of the renewal of their baptismal commitment on Easter.

From its earliest days, the Church has urged the baptized and the catechumens to observe the threefold discipline of fasting, almsgiving, and prayer as a preparation for the celebration of Easter. Failure to observe individual days of penance is not considered serious, but failure to observe any penitential days at all or a substantial number of such days must be considered serious.

During Lent, the Church encourages attendance at daily Mass, self-imposed times of fasting, and generosity to local, national, and worldwide programs of sharing.

letter, of the glowing imagery of prophets, about the evangelical period. Nature for art, the wide earth and the majestic heavens for the crowded city, the subdued and docile beasts of the field for the wild passions and rivalries of social life, tranquility for ambition and care, divine meditation for the exploits of the intellect, the Creator for the creature, such was the normal condition of the monk. He had tried the world, and found its hollowness; or he had eluded its fellowship, before it had solicited him;—and so St. Antony fled to the desert, and St. Hilarion sought the sea shore, and St. Basil ascended the mountain ravine, and St. Benedict took refuge in his cave,...in order that the world might be shut out of view, and the soul might be at rest. And such a rest of intellect and of passion as this is full of the elements of the poetical.” (St. John Henry Newman, The Mission of St. Benedict)

30 DAYS OF PRAYER TO ST. JOSEPH

Ever blessed and glorious Joseph, kind and loving father, and helpful friend of all in sorrow! You are the good father and protector of orphans, the defender of the defenseless, the patron of those in need and sorrow. Look kindly on my request. My sins have drawn down on me the just displeasure of my God, and so I am surrounded with unhappiness. To you, loving guardian of the Family of Nazareth, do I go for help and protection.

Listen, then, I beg you, with fatherly concern, to my earnest prayers, and obtain for me the favors I ask.

I ask it by the infinite mercy of the eternal Son of God, which moved Him to take our nature and to be born into this world of sorrow.

I ask it by the weariness and suffering you endured when you found no shelter at the inn of Bethlehem for the holy Virgin, nor a house where the Son of God could be born. Then, being everywhere refused, you had to allow the Queen of Heaven to give birth to the world's Redeemer in a cave.

I ask it by the loveliness and power of that sacred Name, Jesus, which you conferred on the adorable infant.

I ask it by that painful torture you felt at the prophecy of holy Simeon, which declared the Child Jesus and His holy Mother future victims of our sins and of their great love for us.

I ask it through your sorrow and pain of soul when the angel declared to you that the life of the Child Jesus was sought by His enemies. From their evil plan you had to flee with Him and His Blessed Mother to Egypt. I ask it by all the suffering, weariness, and labors of that long and dangerous journey.

I ask it by all your care to protect the Sacred Child and His Immaculate Mother during your second journey, when you were ordered to return to your own country. I ask it by your peaceful life in Nazareth where you met with so many joys and sorrows.

I ask it by your great distress when the adorable Child was lost to you and His Mother for three days. I ask it by your joy at finding Him in the Temple, and by the comfort you found at Nazareth, while living in the company of the Child Jesus. I ask it by the wonderful submission He showed in His obedience to you.

I ask it by the perfect love and conformity you showed in accepting the Divine order to depart from this life, and from the company of Jesus and Mary. I ask it by the joy which filled your soul, when the Redeemer of the world, triumphant over death and hell, entered into the possession of His kingdom and led you into it with special honors.

I ask it through Mary's glorious Assumption, and through that endless happiness you have with her in the presence of God.

O good father! I beg you, by all your sufferings, sorrows, and joys, to hear me and obtain for me what I ask.

(make your request)

Obtain for all those who have asked my prayers everything that is useful to them in the plan of God. Finally, my dear patron and father, be with me and all who are dear to me in our last moments, that we may eternally sing the praises of Jesus, Mary and Joseph. Amen.
